Large-Scale Recreation Events 2016

1. Purpose of the Report

1.1 To inform Members of the level of large-scale recreation events in the National Park.

2. Background

2.1 The Head of Recreation and Park Management, acting under the terms of an agreement with Natural England monitors the level of large-scale recreation events that could have an adverse impact on the fabric of the National Park and its communities and visitors. Organisers are offered guidance to reduce potential conflicts and are usually very receptive to requests to modify their plans. They are sometimes required to seek formal consent from Natural England for activities that are potentially damaging to an SSSI and a working arrangement is usually agreed that negates this risk.

3. 2016 Report

3.1 A comprehensive list of large-scale recreation events in the National Park in 2016 appears at the Appendix.

3.2 The popularity of trail running events continues, with established races at capacity and organisers holding lists of reserve entrants waiting to take up any places which become available

3.3 New for 2016 were some Gravel Bike events – essentially long distance sportives using mainly stone tracks. Many were public bridleways, but organisers were able to obtain permission to use private forest and moorland tracks to make up the desired distance.

3.4 2016 also saw the return of the Boltby Bash – a mountain bike sportive and race which used 5 sections on private land for the electronically timed race sections, then long sections of bridleway for the untimed ride to the next competitive stage.

3.5 At the request of a moorland estate a planned September mountain bike orienteering event was moved from Saturday to Sunday to avoid conflict with a shoot.

3.6 The road cycling Tour de Yorkshire came through the National Park on a Sunday in April, bringing large numbers of visitors and a good turn-out at our Sutton Bank Centre in particular. The 2017 race visits on a Friday with a shorter route through the Park. It misses our Centres, but there National Park staff and volunteers will be out at Saltersgate and Sledgates to “fly the flag” and cheer the riders on

4. Financial and Staffing Implications

4.1 No change.

5. Contribution to National Park Management Plan

5.1 Events protocols were used to minimise conflicts between Recreational activities and:

- (U5) the interests of communities, land managers and other user groups
- (U6) conservation of the special qualities of the National Park

6. Legal Implications

6.1 None

7. Recommendation

7.1 That Members note and comment on the report.

4.	Approve minutes from meeting held on 18 October 2016 The minutes were approved.
5.	Matters arising Future of Farming Group JBa gave an update on the progress of the Future of Farming Group. He had previously circulated a paper to all Directors that had been prepared by Kevin Bishop and him that reflected the current thinking within the group on what a future system of farming and land management might look like. It focused on high level objectives and saw a greater role for NPAs in future. The paper was intended to get a foot in the door with Defra ministers and to stimulate a discussion on the role of NPs and NPAs and what we had to offer. It did not seek to design in detail a future scheme. The Board wished to thank JBa for his work, and that of the group.

	Directors shared their initial thoughts on the paper which would be helpful for the next iteration. This included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • strong support for the paper with many commenting that it hit the right buttons. • we should not automatically preclude NPAs being payment agents since some NPAs (like the NF) had good experience of already doing this. • We should make it clear to ministers that without environmentally friendly farming we cannot deliver our statutory purposes. • The final paper should explain NPs are not just upland. • Emphasis should be given to our partnership working; creating and delivering scheme; and ability to be excellent test-beds. JBa was keen to ensure the group could be assured that the proposals reflected the views of all NPAs prior to the Board considering it at their next meeting, and before NPE approached Defra. The next paper coming to the NPE Board would have more statistics and case studies to support the case being made. The point was made that Chairs had an important role in coming prepared to explain their NPA position at the next meeting. It was agreed that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the paper would be shared with Directors with a 'working draft' header included. • Directors could choose the best way of canvassing opinion amongst their NPA and in so doing make it clear that it is a working draft. • Directors and NPAs may wish to draw on the main messages contained in the paper when opportunities arise (such as ministerial visits) • The Board would receive a paper with recommendations to sign off at its next meeting on 5 April. This would form an important part of our response to the Government's forthcoming Green Papers. The NPE Chair invited PH to share some intelligence following a breakfast seminar he had attended on Brexit and agriculture that had been convened by the Environment Agency that morning. PH said that key messages coming from Defra were the need to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • agree collectively what the high-level outcomes were that was needed from a new system; • consider what processes might deliver those objectives; and • to have day 1 readiness. Ministers feel that there is a real opportunity to improve farming and land management and deliver value for money. Ministers work to multiple policy objectives (these were summarised as delivering environmental benefits, enhancing farming productivity, having a thriving rural economy, addressing risk management, maintaining confidence in the British food supply chain, and maintaining animal welfare standards. Government would need to consider what needs to be done first to achieve these. The Environment, and the Food Farming and Fisheries Green Papers would be published very soon and include some high-level questions. A mix of tools would be needed, the Green Papers might conceivably lead to publication of a White Paper, and new legislation would be required at some point. Finally, Ministers will be looking to show that changes have been made on day 1 of the transition, but need to do this in a way that does not destabilise the system. And Government would be open to piloting things. PH concluded that the paper that had been prepared by the Future of Farming Group would chime well with the questions Defra were asking. Neighbourhood Planning TG raised the different experiences that NPAs are having with neighbourhood planning and asked that the Heads of Planning Group share learning on this point. PH indicated the HoP group regularly exchange experience but would make sure it was on their agenda for the next meeting of the group. AB added that the All Parks Policy Officers Group had also shared their experience in this area. Broadband Preparing a briefing note was still on the to-do list, and PH apologised for not being able to finalise and circulate before now. Directors highlighted that broadband remained an	JB/PH ALL Directors ALL Directors JB PH PH

	important issue to work on. Briefing note on NPE's priorities PH stated that this was in preparation and would be circulated prior to the next meeting. Data provision by Natural England PH had followed up with Gary Smith on preparing something for the NPE Chair following the last meeting, and would do so again. This related to the provision of information by Natural England to the MEOPL project.	PH PH
6.	Chair's report The Chair reported that since the last NPE Board meeting, she had met with Lord Gardiner to sign off the new process for Secretary of State appointments to NPAs. The Minister had expressed a willingness to attend and speak at the UK National Parks Conference that the South Downs are hosting in October 2017. Lord Gardiner had reiterated that he was delighted to hold the brief for National Parks and his office would work with the NPE office to schedule visits to all the National Parks, with the first being in the Broads in March. He would like to use these visits to address other issues (such as picking up his brief for rural issues) as part of these visits. He would appreciate being briefed in advance of any problems that might surface during a visit and asked that NPE provide briefing. This would require Chairs/ CEOs to share any potential 'traps' in advance. Lord Gardiner had also described the Department's two drivers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) securing vibrant food and farming (b) delivering a better environment for future generations The Minister had been keen that NPAs engage with the consultation processes for the Environment, and Food, Farming and Fisheries Green Papers. The impact of power lines on the Lake District National Park was also discussed and he expressed a desire that powerlines should always be undergrounded. We also discussed the potential for improving the protection of the setting of National Parks more generally, as and when the NPPF is next reviewed. The Minister also expressed enthusiasm for celebrating high quality design of developments in National Parks since this could show that it was possible to have development, in keeping with protected areas, providing they are done properly. The Chair concluded by saying that it had been a friendly meeting and he had wanted to maintain regular discussions with her.	All Chairs/ CEOs
7.	Lead NPO report and Business Plan update AW introduced the report. He updated the Board on devolution discussions related to Teesside. He had seen a copy of the Statutory Instrument and confirmed that the SI included the changes that NYMNPAs and NPE had wanted to see inserted. The episode highlighted the importance of improving links with CLG. He had attended a meeting of Defra's Environment Committee. Sonia Phippard (Defra Director General) who chairs this group would be visiting the North York Moors NPA in March and was keen to see what they are doing on health, and on income generation. Finally, he had made links with a senior official within the Cabinet Office that would be helpful for stimulating discussion between NPE and National Citizens Service. TB and PH would be following up on this. The remaining paper covering the NPE Business Plan was noted without discussion.	TB/PH
8.	NPE / FC Forestry Accord for Discussion PH introduced the paper which sought a discussion on the content and messages for a Joint Accord with the Forestry Commission. The paper had been prepared by MH, and itself followed discussion by the All Parks Trees and Woodland Officers Group and work undertaken by Sophie Gledhill. The paper included a draft Accord for discussion. It

	The Chair noted that offers were made to provide case studies of NPAs work on health (both prevention and recovery) to support NPE's engagement with DoH. On the 70th anniversary of the National Parks and Access to the Countryside Act 1949, PH highlighted that HLF were enthusiastic about potentially receiving a bid for a year-long celebration of National Parks. Responsibility for taking the celebration forward overall lay with NP-UK, but if their resources were stretched, PH asked the Board whether NPE should support fast-tracking the preparation of a bid? Directors commented that using an anniversary can give National Parks and our work profile; Love Your National Parks had worked well, and that if done at all – a celebration should be done well. However, there was an opportunity cost and risk of lethargy over anniversary celebrations. It was agreed that the issue should be addressed at the NP-UK meeting. If NPE were to be involved in the Anniversary to a greater extent than forecast, the Board would want to know what the impact would be on other areas of policy work? [Post meeting note: Margaret Paren and Jacqui Burgess discussed the anniversary and it was agreed that the celebrations would be led by NP-UK, with NPE focused only on policy and parliamentary activity associated with it]. The purpose of the Anniversary report (set out in paragraph 6.2) was agreed. We would seek Ministerial support for its launch, recognising that other political drivers may mean 23 March is not a launch date. The Chair asked that the Board see the draft report at their 5 April meeting, or by email if it was to be launched prior to the meeting date.	All NPOs PH
10.	National Park Food – preparing for meeting Fiona Gately PH introduced the paper that had been prepared in anticipation of Fiona Gately from the Great British Food Unit (GBFU) joining the Board meeting. Despite her sending apologies, the paper raised some important questions on how NPAs/ NPE should make the most of National Parks provenance? There was much good work being done locally and the question was what role was there (if any) to undertake activity collaboratively or nationally? The 8 Point Plan provides a framework for this discussion and Ministers remain passionate about it. Internally, this area of work does not sit comfortably in one specific All Parks Professional Group, meaning capacity for taking it forward is slower than for other topics. LR highlighted the Environmental Quality Mark that the PDNPA promotes across all its produce and would arrange for material on the mark to be sent to NPE office. Directors agreed that NPAs had any role at all in promoting exports markets it was at very arms-length. Our strength lay in domestic markets built around quality. JBa noted that some involved in promoting exports markets did see scope for a National Park custodian scheme. It would be important if NPAs did embark on this nationally that what was produced would have a modern currency, was of sufficient quality, and wasn't restricted to heritage foods/ markets. MP recognised that there was a lot going on to market products locally. The question was, for this to work nationally, was there a need for a widely recognised National Park provenance mark? JD highlighted the risks and dangers of too many brands, and the degree of work required to establish a national brand across many markets. It was agreed that we would send the questions in the paper to the GBFU to seek their advice, and use them as a basis for any meeting we can secure with them. The Chair also asked the NPE office to consider the value of inviting NPA staff together to share what works well, and what doesn't in terms of local marketing, in order that NPAs can learn from each other.	LR/SF PH MH

11.	NPPL Branding proposals The Chair introduced the item and explained that NPPLs proposals for branding were being brought to this meeting, only for consideration regarding any impact they might have on NPE itself and work that the Board have asked NPE staff to undertake on Love Your National Parks (LYNP). No decisions would be taken on NPPL branding. This was simply to get the feel of the NPE Board on whether LYNP should continue or be dropped. The following points were made in discussion: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Directors had asked that the staff work up LYNP and this was why it featured in the newly agreed NPE Business Plan. • LYNP had been established to focus on government, and it had largely worked. It was useful to have a brand that could be used at an England level politically. • The public recognition of LYNP is very low – not least because the public were not its target audience. Whilst it is important that LYNP does not detract from opportunities for much wider public recognition through what might be possible through NPAs working with a corporate partner, the signs were that it won't get in the way or compete. • There was a danger of confusing brands and logos. Rather than picking between logos, the bigger task was perhaps clarifying what is the brand essence of all 15 National Parks coming together? And what is the level of public understanding of this brand? • There was support for the LYNP logo, for example, by the Outdoor Industries Association and enthusiasm for its use amongst officers of the Visitor Centre Managers Group. • At the April NPE Board workshop, Directors had decided that LYNP should continue to be a mechanism to engage politicians, but also as a device to learn more about the opportunities for joint merchandising using print on demand models. This is why NPE was in the latter stages of trademarking the LYNP logo. • There had been very recent conversations with NPPL at officer level to see how we can move forward in a way that avoids conflict to either party. A suggested way forward looked like trialling LYNP with an online print on demand shop over 12-18 months, prior to any contract being signed between NPPL and a company. This would allow some trialling of collective merchandising. NPE should secure the Trademark. Given LYNP represents either a statement of support for NPs, or a call to action for others, it might be an attractive logo for use as part of the company's first 'campaign' – allowing it to reach a far bigger audience. This could include NPE licencing the company to produce LYNP T-shirts and other clothing.
12.	Secretary of State Appointments and new Governance Code on Public Appointments The Chair introduced the item and reminded Directors of recent correspondence that they will have received from Defra on the topic. The Minister had apologised for any upset caused by some of the streamlining proposals and was completely behind NPA Chairs being on the selection panels that are considering applications for their National Park. Defra have signed off the appointments process, but recognise that this is the first round of appointments and there may be learning from this round that can feed back into future arrangements. Any feedback should be sent to Margaret Read at Defra. The Board agreed to have a wash up session following the first round of appointments in order to identify any improvements that are needed. The Chair reminded Directors that Defra are keen for Chairs to encourage individuals to apply. The message is 'please apply but as it is a Ministerial appointment, I cannot guarantee anything'. The Chair confirmed that the new Governance Code on Public Appointments (circulated with the papers) would apply to this recruitment round.	NPE Office All Chairs where recruiting
